

Urban Land Institute

Tami Holzman Speaking Reference

We had the pleasure of having Tami Holzman at our 2nd Annual Women's Leadership Symposium as our keynote speaker. More than 100 women (and a few men) were riveted by Tami's hour-long presentation about building leadership within the organization and harnessing the power of emotional intelligence to grow professionally and personally.

Her presentation was entertaining, enlightening, and she told the audience how incredible they could be through taking risks, believing in and supporting one another, and most importantly being your authentic self.

Tami's sharp wit and self-effacing humor kept her message fresh, on point, and relatable to everyone in the room. Tami inspires confidence, self-love, and gave the audience tips and wisdom that we can all put to good use immediately. It was a privilege to hear Tami's message.

I would highly recommend hiring Tami as a keynote speaker. The added benefit of being able to provide books to each member of the audience that Tami autographed with a personal message was an unexpected perk.

If you have any questions, feel free to contact me.

Heather Foley
Executive Director
Urban Land Institute, San Diego
heather.foley@ULI.org
(843) 513-9331